HOMEMAKER'S ITEMS

Soon you'll be buying Christmas toys.

The National Council for Safety offers this advice to gift-givers who are buying toys for the baby or toddler:

Avoid stuffed animals with glass or button eyes. Examine toys to see that there are no removable parts which could be swallowed. Buy sturdy rattles, blocks with round corners, soft balls and dolls, and push-and-pull toys with rounded handles.

The two to four-year-old is interested in building blocks, peg toys, large crayons, dolls, and non-tipping kiddie cars.

The four to six-year-old likes construction sets, puzzles, games, cut-out sets with blunt scissors, and doll houses.

The six to eight-year-old is interested in hobby materials, musical instruments, sports equipment, boys and construction sets and table-top games.

The council also adds this final word of advice to parents: Don't endanger your child with shooting or target toys, sharp tools, poorly built wagons or sleds. Don't buy toys that are too heavy. Complicated for the child. Avoid sharp-edged tools and unapproved electric trains.

Thanksgiving
BEFORE DINNER
WHEN'S DINNER GONNA BE READY MOM
I'M STARVIN' TO DEATH GRAM!
I'M SO HUNGRY I COULD EAT A HORSE!
ME TOO!
MY STOMACH THINKS MY THROAT'S BEEN CUT
AFTER DINNER
Ah-ha!
MMM! THAT FROZEN STRAWBERRY PIE!
IT WAS EASIER THIS YEAR
"I served them an old-fashioned feast without the usual fuss and work that goes with a Thanksgiving dinner. I got a nice frozen turkey at the locker plant, ready to be stuffed and placed in the oven. All cleaned, cut and ready to be used around freezer locker shrimp cocktail . . . salad with frozen peaches . . . oven-to-table hot rolls . . . baked by my whole meal around freezer foods . . . strawberries from last summer's garden . . . frozen grapes, hearts I put up myself and topped the meal off with strawberry shortcake . . . Talks at top from Grandma . . . that's the way to operate your busy day and find out how to serve a modern Thanksgiving dinner with frozen foods."

EVERGREEN PTA

The Evergreen P.-T. A. held its monthly meeting Monday, November 19. Mrs. Ryland Staples read the Scripture and Mrs. Clara Garrett offered prayer. Others taking part on the program were Mrs. Louise Farrar, Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Ruby Hamilton. Business was discussed. The next meeting will be held December 17.

YWA MEETING

The Susie Whittinghill Y. W. A. held its regular meeting Wednesday night, November 14, at the home of Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Jr. The meeting was opened by Margaret Johnson, president, with a prayer and the watchword. The minutes were read by Virginia Chandler, secretary. A historian was elected, to clip news reports from the paper and place them in a scrap book. Opal Johnson was named to this office, with Shirley Davis as assistant.

The Y. W. A.'s are planning a program of cooperation with the R. A.'s. If the R. A.'s attend every meeting for three months they will be given a T-shirt with the R. A. emblem. If the girls in the Y. W. A. attend every meeting for three months they will receive a Y. W. A. pin.

After all business had been attended to, the meeting was turned over to Dorothea Coleman, who led a program on "Headaches in the Far East.

After the program, Mrs. Harwood served delicious refreshments. There was one new member and one visitor.

The next meeting will be held on November 27, at 7:30, with Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Jr.

NET INCREASE NOTED IN TRAVEL BUSINESS

Richmond, Nov. 21.- Virginia will close the travel year with a net increase of 10 per cent, both in its travel trade and in the increase of its businesses to accomodate the traveler, the research committee of the Virginia Travel Council has announced. Walter Delbeare, of Richmond, is chairman of the committee and other members are: Raymond V. Long, Richmond; Thomas McCaskey, Williamsburg; Burton Marye and James W. Smith, both of Richmond.

The committee reported a gross increase in motor travel to Virginia of 15 per cent, but on the advice of the State Highway Commission which estimated that 5 per cent of the 15 per cent increase was military personnel using cars licensed in other states, the official figure for the year's business was raised from $400,000,000 for 1950 to $440,000,000 for 1951. If added, the increase in travel attributed to military personnel would make the figure $460,000,000.

The committee also received from James Smith, director of the Tourist Establishment Sanitation Department of the State Department of Health, a report to show that there was an increase during 1951, by actual count of his department, of 2 per cent in hotel rooms, 12 per cent in motor court rooms, and 12 1-2 per cent in guest home rooms. The overall increase was 10 per cent, despite building restrictions, making the increase in accomodations equal to the increase in business. Mr. Smith also stated that restaurant facilities also increased proportionately.

Colored Dots

COLORED DOTS

A large crowd attended the funeral services of the late Mrs. Dora Dillard at the First Baptist Church last Sunday at 3 P. M. The pastor, Rev. N. R. Jordan, officiated. The following order of service was followed: Recessional, prayer by Rev. C. A. Marshall; music by the choir; Scripture reading, Rev. R. Q. Lawing; resolutions and acknowledgements, Rev. Lawing; solo by Mrs. T. W. Hamlet; eulogy by the pastor. The deceased was in her 76th year. She had been a faithful member of the First Baptist Church. She was one of the founders of the Ladies Aid Society of the church.

She leaves three daughters, two sons, twelve grandchildren, three great grandchildren, and a host of relatives and friends.

Impressive services were held at the Galilee Baptist Church on last Sunday morning. The pastor preached a challenging Thanksgiving message. The church choir rendered beautiful music. The offering was taken by deacons A. W. Robinson and Charlie Marshall.

An appreciative crowd attended the musical program given at the Galilee Baptist Church last Sunday evening by the Junior Choir of the First Baptist Church. The program was for the benefit of the two Sunday Schools. Mrs. T. W. Hamlet was in charge of the choir and Miss Sarah Watkins was pianist.

A special homecoming rally day will be held at the St. Paul Baptist Church this Sunday, beginning at 11:30. The pastor will preach at the morning service. Rev. W. H. Lewis will preach at 3 P. M. The Ideal Spiritual Singers will render a program at 8 P. M.

A special program will be given at Galilee Baptist Church the first Sunday in December at 3:00 P. M. A report from the plate rally will be made.

Mrs. Q. W. Smith entertained the Modernistic Club at her home last Friday. All club members were present. Prizes were won by Mesdames Harris, Hamlet and Beasley.
